Objectives of this Programme:

This programme is mainly concerned with the famous river Jalangi of Krishnanagar, a district town of Nadia district of West Bengal. This river is a branch of the Ganges river in Murshidabad & Nadia districts in the Indian state of West Bengal. It flows into the Bhagirathi River & strengthens its lower channel, the Hooghly. Jalangi is active during the monsoon season & Nadia district is quite susceptible to the flooding of Jalangi. This river is otherwise suffering from lack of supply of water to maintain its flow during the drier part of the year.

The main reason behind decreasing water flow in the Jalangi River is the shifting of the main channel of Ganga coupled with rapid siltation. The other factors disturbing the main channel are sediment quarrying from the river bank & dry river bed, land-use changes, contamination of river water through the release of effluents into the river, garbage dumping etc. The presence of water hyacinth is a common phenomenon in the lower course of river indicating eutrophication. The anthropogenic impact is mostly visible in the areas near Krishnanagar city.

So, this programme, entitled "Nadi Utsav" mainly highlights the various aspects of river Jalangi. How to preserve this cultural heritage.

Objectives of this programme:

Sankhai Ghat is a confluence region of two famous rivers of West Bengal- Ajay & the river Ganga of Katwa sub-divisional town of Purba Bardhaman district. This region was previously famous for ideal habitat of Gangetic Dolphin & many other aquatic fauna & flora but sorry to say that contamination of river water through the direct release of effluents into the river, garbage dumping in the river bed, indiscriminate use of polythene carry packets, use of plastics, worsen the situation.

So, this programme is designed in such a way to generate consciousness among common public of Katwa town about the impact of river pollution & how to prevent it & at the same time preserve the cultural heritage of Katwa town.

Objectives of this Programme:

Sundarbans is a mangrove area in the delta formed by the confluence of the Ganges, Brahmaputra & Meghna Rivers in the Bay of Bengal. Spread across parts of India & Bangladesh, this forest is the largest mangrove forest in the world. Four protected areas in the Sundarbans are enlisted as UNESCO World Heritage Sites, viz. Sundarbans west ( Bangladesh ), Sundarbans South ( Bangladesh ), Sundarbans East ( Bangladesh ) & Sundarbans National Park ( India ).

Despite the protected status, the Indian Sundarbans was considered endangered in a 2020 assessment under the IUCN Red List of Ecosystems framework. The Sundarbans mangrove forest covers an area of about 4260 km<sup>2</sup> in West Bengal across the South 24 Parganas & North 24 Parganas districts. The most abundant tree species are Sundari (Heritiera fomes) & gewa (Exoecaria sp.) The forest provides habitat to 453 fauna wildlife.

Mangrove forests provide habitat for thousands of species at all levels of marine & forest food web, from bacteria to barnacles to world famous Royal Bengal tigers. Mangrove forests have diverse impacts in our environment, especially in coastal environment to protect from decay. The simple method to protect this beautiful coastal environment through plantation of Mangrove tree.

Academic Year [2022-2023]:

1. Name of the programme: An outreach programme to campaign about Ganges river Dolphin awareness activities.

Date of the programme, venue & time:

Date: 26.05.2023

Venue: Sankhai Ghat, Katwa.

Time: 12-1:30 P.M.

Organizing Committee:

Katwa College N.S.S. Unit I, II, III & Bardhaman Forest Division & Wild Life Institute of India.

No. of Participants:

40 [Teachers-3, Students-37].

Objective of this Programme:

Sankhai Ghat is a confluence region of two famous rivers of West Bengal-Ajay & the river Ganga of Katwa sub-divisional town of Purba Bardhaman district. This ghat was previously famous for breeding site of Gangetic Dolphin. But they are vanishing rapidly from this area.

Gangetic Dolphin is a species of freshwater dolphin classified in the family Platanistidae. It lives in the Ganges & related rivers of South Asia, namely in the countries of India, Nepal & Bangladesh. Its scientific name is Platanista gangetica. In West Bengal, it is commonly known as Shushuk.

This dolphin has been listed as endangered species on the IUCN Red List since 1996. It is threatened by habitat fragmentation due to reduced dry-season river flows, entanglement in fishing gear & by-catch mortality, targeted hunting, pollution of rivers in proximity to urban areas & intensive agricultural landscapes etc. On the occasion of the 74th Independence day, 15 August, 2020, the Indian Ministry of Environment, Forest & Climate Change announced 'Project Dolphin' to boost conservation of Gangetic Dolphin & Oceanic Dolphin.
